

12 full-time PhD positions in the MSCA Doctoral Network TReND

We would like to draw your attention to the MSCA Doctoral Network TReND (Translational Research Network in Motor Disorder Rehabilitation: Advancing understanding of variability in motor control and learning, to enhance clinical practice). The network is funded by the European Union, UK Research and Innovation (UKRI) and the Swiss State Secretariat for Education, Research and Innovation (SERI). Our overall aim is to systematically translate recent theoretical and methodological advances in motor control and learning research into clinical practice to enhance clinical diagnosis and motor rehabilitation. More specific, we will investigate the functional role of variability in the sensorimotor coordination dynamics on behavioural and neurophysiological level in motor and mental disorders such as Stroke, Parkinson's, or Alzheimer's disease.

Within this Doctoral Network, we offer 12 full-time PhD positions across the different network partners. All PhD positions are expected to start between September and November 2024.

Please note the mobility rule: you cannot apply for positions in countries where you have resided or carried out your main activity (work, studies, etc.) for more than 12 months in the 3 years immediately before the recruitment date.

Our project homepage with the job advertisements will be online shortly. In the meantime, you can find information about the project here: <https://www.uni-muenster.de/Sportwissenschaft/en/Neuromotor-Behavior/forschung/trend/index.html>

PhD positions are available for the following network partners (please look out for updates on our homepage in case they are not available yet).
